Our professional designers can help you craft any design you want for your custom clothing line. The number of these amazing and eye-catching embroidery designs is endless.

OUR MANUFACTURING PROCESS

1

CONCEPT AND DEVELOPMENT

The first stage of clothing production starts with a pattern or blueprint making of the garment according to the client's given requirements. The designers make use of given details like design, style, color, size, and custom prints to create a conceptual design or sketch of the garment also known as a garment sample.

CONCEPT AND DEVELOPMENT

The first stage of clothing production starts with a pattern or blueprint making of the garment according to the client's given requirements. The designers make use of given details like design, style, color, size, and custom prints to create a conceptual design or sketch of the garment also known as a garment sample.

CUTTING

We do bulk fabric cutting with our latest automated and manual cutting machines. This procedure is done with very accuracy and care as a minor mistake could cause a major problem which is irreversible. This process is done under the supervision of our professional team that takes care of the smooth cutting process.

3

EMBROIDERY OR CUSTOM PRINTING

Once the fabric is cut into the required sizes, we do the custom embroidery or printing according to the client's given requirements. Our latest embroidery machines are efficient to craft any latest design you need. Also, we have many printing options to choose from including, sublimation, screen, heat-press, and DTG printing.

SEWING

The sewing process is done by the hands of our experienced workers. We make sure every inch of your garment is stitched with maximum precision and accuracy. We are confident that you wouldn't find a single defect in any of our product's stitching.

5

QUALITY CHECKING

Once your garment is stitched, it passes through our strict quality control system. Which makes sure the garment has no flaws and it passes all the international quality standards. If there is any defect found we never deliver that garment to our client. No piece of a garment leaves our manufacturing factory unless it satisfies all the client's requirements.

7

PACKAGING AND SHIPPING

Finally, our finest-made products are packed into boxes using automated packaging machines that are proficient to pack your products in no time. And then these packages are sent for shipping.

Why Experto should be the NO.1 Choice Of Every Brand

We Guarantee 100% Quality

You will never find a manufacturer that provides you quality guarantee for every product. We have implemented strict production rules and Quality control systems that make sure every piece of garment we make meets all the quality standards of our client.

No restrictions over Quantity

Experto is one of the rare manufacturers that offer no quantity restrictions over any clothing product. Whether You want just one piece of our premium manufactured garment or thousands. It's totally up to you. As we aim to support the new emerging brands, our NO MOQ policy makes it easier for such startup brands to start their business in the clothing industry without worrying about quantity restrictions and cost.

We Will Support You at Every Step

Is your brand struggling with no sales due to low-quality garments or you are out of new ideas and missing the latest garment styles? Don't worry we can help you. Experto provides the solution by delivering premium quality products in all the latest designs and styles. With our years of experience with many established European brands, we know what will work for you. Our experienced consultancy team is 24/7 available to assist you with new business ideas in the clothing industry without worrying about quantity restrictions and cost.

Fast Production and Delivery

With the use of the latest automated manufacturing machines, Experto is able to manufacture and deliver your garments up to 50% time faster than traditional manufacturers. The Production is done at a fast pace but it never affects our product's quality. You always get products that excel in quality, look, design, and premium feel.

Most Affordable Prices, You'll Never Find Anywhere

We offer affordable rates without adding any third-party taxes. As we have access to all raw materials locally, we don't need to pay dozens of extra taxes for outsourcing these materials. So, the products made at Experto are much cheaper than the international rates while offering the same premium quality.

What Our Clients Have to Say

Experto is a dedicated, professional, and ethical manufacturer. I have always recommended them and will do so in future too. We have years of working relationships, and Experto has never disappointed us. This company continuously evolves and adopts new methods and techniques to fit customer and fashion needs. They are fair, reliable, have good communication flow, meet deadlines, and have very reasonable pricing.
